

A FEATHER IN OUR CAP: FEEDBACK FROM THE PRESS AND OUR GUESTS

What the Experts are Saying:

Travel + Leisure, "500 World's Best Hotels" 2011

Forbes Travel Guide – Four-Star Hotel 2011

Food & Wine, December 2010 – "Where to go Next"

Wallpaper/Fortune, December 2010 – One of "The Best New Business Hotels"

Wine Spectator – Best of Award of Excellence

Zagat 2010 Rating for Plume – 26 for Food, 29 for Service and 29 for Ambience

Travel + Leisure, August 2010 – "2010 World's Best Awards: Top 10 Small City Hotels in US/Canada"

Robb Report, June 2010 – One of "The Best of the Best"

Condé Nast Traveler, May 2010 – "Hot List"

Elite Traveler, January/February 2010 – One of "Washington, D.C.'s Best Suites"

The Washington Post, Dec. 13, 2009 – "From the moment you enter the hotel, where the doors are flung open by uniformed attendants and the hosts welcome you with warm smiles, you know you're in a special place."

Oyster.com, December 2009 – "Five Pearls" – "For doting service, great rooms, and unparalleled attention to detail, you can't do better than the Jefferson."

DC Magazine, December 2009 – "Five Stars" – The first time DC magazine has awarded five stars to a hotel and restaurant.

Where Washington, December 2009 – "Thomas Jefferson – third president, First Oenophile – sailed to Paris for the luxe cuisine and wines he could find easily today at his namesake hotel."

Washington Flyer, November/December 2009 – "The Jefferson wins my vote as the perfect holiday romantic overnight for two."

DailyCandy.com, Oct. 31, 2009 – “When it comes to renaissance men, our third president sets the standard — as demonstrated at The Jefferson, which opens today after an immaculate renaissance of its own.”

Vogue.com, Oct. 19, 2009 – “With just three plush treatment cabins on the premises, your chances of running into cross-party competition in the waiting room are blissfully slim, although once inside, you’re admittedly unlikely to care.”

WeLoveDC.com, Oct. 9, 2009 – “What we had that night was not just a dining experience, it was dining heaven.”

What our Guests are Saying:

Reviews on OpenTable

Reviews on Yelp.com:

The Jefferson, Washington, DC

Plume

Quill

Reviews on TripAdvisor.com

Reviews on Expedia.com